ABOUT PAT WILLIAMS

Pat founded CyberCletch in 2002, bringing managerial, writing, and organizational skills together with her formal education in behavioral science technology to create a professional and educational experience for her clients.

Beginning as a VA before the term existed, she has been building websites for REALTORS since 1999, and expanded her business into an agency that excels at long-term client partnerships for any company that needs to build trust online. The average lifespan of her current roster of clients is 8 years, which is 700% longer than the industry average.

Pat is also a certified Fix This Next Advisor.

ADDITIONAL INFO

Hello, I'm Pat! Whether we're talking websites or behavior, I love discussing reasons and recommend solutions in easy to understand terms. I stress the importance of owning your website and its content if you are building a long-term business. I strategize content, SEO, social, and share why they need to work in conjunction with your website. Having made every mistake possible over my 20+ years in business, I became certified in the Fix This Next method which helps owners eradicate entrepreneurial poverty. I'm happy to share what I've learned to help others become successful, faster. I travel full-time in North America in my truck camper and fly overseas once or twice a year. I live my life on my terms while managing chronic disease.
